

Sheriff McCloskey To Have Charge Of All County Registrars

Blanks For Filling Out Have Been In His Hands For Several Days With Instructions To Be Ready

FOLLOWING IS A LIST OF THE QUESTIONS

Sheriff Ira McCloskey will have charge of conscription in Clearfield county. He will appoint registrars for each voting district in the county, where all young men between the ages of 21 and 31 years will report at a time to be designated later, for registration.

If they do not report, the sheriff will be obliged to perform the disagreeable duty of going after them.

The registrars will volunteer their services and will receive no compensation.

We have procured the following information in regard to enrolling of those of conscription age by the sheriff of Clearfield county and his registrars.

There are two cards one of which contains a dozen questions which the eligible must answer and which he must verify by his signature, while on the back are three questions to be answered and signed by the registrar. A registration certificate is given to each person registering showing that the holder has submitted himself to the registration and has been duly registered.

The list of questions to be answered are as follows:

Name in full and age?
Home address, including street number?
Date of birth?
Are you a natural born citizen, a naturalized citizen, an alien or have you declared your intentions?
Where were you born?
If not a citizen, of what country are you a citizen or subject?
What is your present trade, occupation or office?
By whom employed?
Where employed?
Have you a father, mother, wife, child under 12, or a sister or brother under 12, solely dependent on you for support, specify which?
Married or single and race?
Military service you have had, rank, branch, years, nation or state?
Do you claim exemption from draft, specify grounds?
On one corner of the card there is printed these words: "If person is of African descent, tear off this corner."

The questions to be answered by the registrar are as follows:

Tall, medium or short; slender, medium or stout?
Color of eyes, color of hair, bald?
Has person lost arm, leg, hand, foot or both eyes or is he otherwise disabled?

The registrar must certify that the person registered has read his own answers and that he has witnessed the signature and that all of his answers of which the registrar has knowledge are true, a blank space being provided for any exceptions.

The registration certificate which is filled out by the registrar and is turned over to the person registered is a green card, signed by the registrar and which bears the insignia of the United States. It is to be kept by the person registering and sets forth that the holder has complied with the proclamation of the president of the United States by submitting himself to registration and that he has been duly registered on the date specified.

The holder of the card is supposed to carry it with him so that, in case he might be questioned by an yone in authority in regards to his compliance with the President's proclamation he can show it. Should any male coming under the conscription age to be fixed by congress, not be able to produce the registration certificate or card, after the time has passed for registration, he is liable to arrest by the United States authorities for not complying with the proclamation of the President.

Clearfielders Join In Search For Lad Lost In Mountains Tuesday

More than three hundred men carefully combed the mountain tops in the vicinity of Rockton all day yesterday without finding any trace of the missing Caldwell boy.

Early this morning the search was again taken up, large bodies of men from DuBois, Curwensville, Clearfield and the surrounding settlements joining in the hunt.

Several theories are being advanced for the disappearance of the boy. Some claim that he was drowned in Anderson creek, while others contend that he has fallen into one of the many prospect holes which are scattered over the mountain in the vicinity of Rockton, as a result of the search for fire clay and coal.

It has also been suggested that a bear or other wild animal may have made way with the lad, and while this theory is generally discredited it serves to revive the annually recurring story of a panther having been seen or heard in the vicinity of the headwaters of Anderson creek. It will be remembered that George M. Bixler said he saw a panther near the Gordon camp a few years ago and William T. DeHass who owned the Caldwell farm up till last year is reported to have said that he heard a panther in the woods in that vicinity during 1915.

W. L. Betts, Treasurer A. L. Kline and L. C. Norris headed the Clearfield party of searchers this morning but up to time of going to press no word had been received from any of the searchers.

A DuBois fortune teller who was appealed to by a Rockton woman declared the boy is being detained in a home near the scene and will be released in two days.

William Collins of Falls Creek, a victim of Old Demon Rum, was before the court on a charge of habitual drunkenness and non-support. After a temperance lecture he was allowed to go on his promise to cut out the booze and the Prothonotary was directed to notify license holders on that side of the mountain to put Collins on the prohibited list and thus help him keep his promise.

Perry Detona, the Curwensville foreigner who shot a fellow workman twice during an altercation at the plant of the Bickford Fire Brick company recently, entered a plea of guilty, to a charge of aggravated assault and battery and was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the Western penitentiary. Detona had been living in this country for about sixteen years and had never taken out citizenship papers. He expressed a willingness to declare his intentions and join the army but as District Attorney Welch had investigated his case and found that he had served time at Towanda, Pa., and been in trouble in this county before, it was thought the penitentiary was a better place for him at this time.

CLEARFIELD RED CROSS CHAPTER IN ACTION

Able Officers Elected to Further Interest of Great Charitable Society In This Community

YOU SHOULD BECOME MEMBER

The Clearfield Red Cross Chapter met in the Auditorium of the New High School on May 10, 1917 at 2:30 P. M.

The following officers were elected: Hon. J. Frank Snyder, Chairman. Mrs. J. Fred Weaver, Vice Chairman. H. S. Whiteman, Jr., Treasurer. Miss Ella C. Shaw, Temporary Secretary.

Mrs. A. O. Smith was elected chairman of the Surgical Dressings Department with Miss Ella C. Shaw secretary. A meeting will be called during the coming week to outline the work in this department.

We have all heard of the great Red Cross Society. Familiar as we are with the name, the work and object of the society is more or less obscure to the average individual. It will be news to many to learn that any man, woman or child can be an active member of the Red Cross and share in the honor of helping in the grand humanitarian work. Nothing is so inspiring as the familiar sight of the sign of the Red Cross. It reflects a message of good cheer and charity under the whole canopy of heaven and in a single time can truly be said to be the one emblem of love and charity recognized by warring factions. An article more fully describing this feature of Red Cross work will soon appear in the Progress. The local chapter is to be congratulated on their foresight in electing "men of action" and calibre to the executive staff.

Court Passes Sentence of Death On Convicted Murderer of Rowles

What was possibly the last chapter but one in the case of Com. vs. M. W. Denney was enacted in the court room this morning when Denney or the "Big Swede" as he is known, was called before the Bar of Justice for sentence.

Denney, it will be remembered, was convicted last September of murder in the first degree for the killing of John Rowles in the Shade shanty in the Fourth ward in January of last year.

His accomplices in the killing and robbery, James Wilson and James Allen were convicted of second degree murder and are serving seven year sentences in the penitentiary.

Following his conviction a new trial was asked for Denney by Messrs. Liveright and Gleason, his counsel, but refused, and as it was thought the present legislature would abolish capital punishment, Judge Bell refrained from passing sentence. Now that all hope of abolition of the death penalty is passed and Denney's case is clearing up, the records preparatory to enlisting in the army, Denney was called for sentence this morning.

He was brought into court by Sheriff McCloskey and when he faced the Court he was asked by Judge Bell whether he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced. Denney said he had nothing to say and Judge Bell thereupon sentenced him to death in the electric chair at Rockview.

Denney was apparently unaffected and turned and walked to his cell. After a short consultation with his client Attorney Liveright understood that an appeal from the sentence would be taken to the Supreme court just as soon as the papers in the case could be prepared. It will thus be seen that Denney's case will be finally disposed of and a new trial may be the result, should the Supreme court find reason to reverse the lower court's finding.

Washington, May 11.—Eight members of the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators and several of the United-Mine Workers officials and delegates met with Secretary of Labor Wilson today in an effort to effect a conciliation in the wage and car pushing controversy which has been a bone of contention for several weeks. Both sides were heard and Secretary Wilson evinced great interest in the pleas of both operators and miners and appeared thoroughly conversant with conditions in this region—knowledge gained through his long residence in the coal fields of Central Pennsylvania and his experience as miner and labor leader. An interested and observant party to the hearing was Mr. Louis Foxbody, chairman of the Coal Committee of the National Council of Defense. At 4 p. m. there is no indication of what the joint conference will be able to do toward finally settling the difficulty.

The gardening will be in charge of Prof. Clair Ross principal of the Junior High school.

Osceola Water Comp's Sued For $20,000

Wife of Man Who Succumbed to Fever Brings Suit to Recover Damages

The first echo of the typhoid fever epidemic which swept the town of Osceola the past few months was heard at the court house yesterday when A. R. Chase, Esq., entered suit on behalf of Mrs. Mary Kenna against the Osceola Water company of Osceola for damages incident to the death of her husband, who was one of the typhoid victims.

The amount of damages asked for is $20,000, and the statement filed claims that Kenna contracted the fever from drinking the water furnished by the water company.

It is contended that the reservoir from which the water was taken was fed by a small stream which headed near Sandy Ridge and that the deadly typhoid germs were carried by this stream to the consumer.

It is said that this case will be made a sort of test case by the victims of the typhoid scourge and as there were more than a score of deaths if the responsibility can be placed upon the water company it will result in the financial annihilation of the water company.

LUMBAGO GOES HE FEELS O. K.

Master Medicine to His Rescue When Condition Was Worst

"I was a fine example of 'every picture tells a story,'" says John N. Jones, of 1220 Camden street, Harrisburg. "I was that crippled up with lumbago that I couldn't straighten myself up and I felt so worn out that I thought my days of usefulness were about done."

"I suffered agonies. Why, I couldn't even bend over to tie my shoes without feeling as if a streak of fire was running up and down my back, and when I did get down I couldn't get straightened up again."

"I tried a lot of different kinds of medicine, without any results so far as I could see and I had a picture of myself out of work and not able to lift a hand to earn my living."

"Then one day I read about Tanlac in my paper and I came right down and got a bottle, for, I said, 'If it will do so much for other people, it looks as if it would help me. Did it? All right before you could say 'how-de-do' I was feeling better and from that time on my improvement has been steady until now I am back on my job again and feeling five years younger."

"Now I feel absolutely O. K. and am back on my old job again and I can truthfully say that Tanlac put me there."

Tanlac is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson.

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS IS COMING

Greatest Show on Earth Will Soon Exhibit in This Vicinity

Once again the glad tidings are being sent broadcast telling of the coming of Barnum & Bailey's circus. The greatest show on earth, it is announced, will positively be exhibited within easy traveling distance this season and, as usual, a large percentage of the population will declare a holiday to visit the show.

The big circus will exhibit at Altoona on May 23.

It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Barnum & Bailey performance has ever before been seen under canvas. New and novel features have been imported from abroad and a program of events thrilling, educational and screamingly funny, will occupy every instant in three stages, four stages, the rigging above and the hippodrome surrounding for more than three hours.

The free street parade, which will start from the circus lot at 10 o'clock on the morning of circus day, is entirely different from anything of the kind ever shown before. It will be three miles in length and there will be bands on foot, on horseback, and riding on top of wagons of red and gold. There will be six bands in all and they will be assisted by three brass ensembles and an electric piano.

With the largest tent in the history of all circuses, the Barnum & Bailey circus promises this season to make good again its boast that it is the greatest show on earth. Five railroad cars, will be required to transport its paraphernalia and more than 750 horses will be used to transfer its wagons from the railroad yards to the show lot.

A Column of Interest to Poultry Fanciers and Producers of Eggs

Washington, May 11.—The statement made at the recent agricultural conference at St. Louis that the poultry products of the United States could be doubled within a year means that if everybody in a position to help did their part six hundred million dollars worth of food would be added to our supply this year.

This includes both meat for the table and eggs. Very few farmers practice a systematic plan of disposing of their fowls after they have ceased to be productive although it is well known that fowls of the heavier breeds such as the Plymouth Rock cease to produce a profitable number of eggs at the end of their second laying year and that this holds true of the lighter breeds such as the Leghorns at the end of their third laying year. Consequently, if efforts were made to dispose of all females when their best-laying days were over a large quantity of poultry meat would be placed on the market. All poorly developed chickens should likewise be culled out and used as meat. This way of disposing of unprofitable fowls would allow the farmer to feed his grain to younger and more productive fowls.

Caponizing the cockerels that are not intended for breeding purposes will not only increase their size but will place a more desirable poultry meat on the market. Another practice that should be adopted more widely is that of fattening all chickens that are to be marketed before they leave the farm. This can be done easily by confining the birds for a week or ten days and feeding them a good fattening ration. They will come to market then in better condition and the farmer will receive a profit for their added weight.

The greater production of turkeys, ducks, geese and guineas, all of which can be profitably raised and a ready market found in most sections, would increase the supply of poultry meat considerably. The production of ducks especially should be emphasized at this time, because of the rapidity with which they grow. Ducks of most of the meat breeds, properly fed and managed, frequently weigh from five to six pounds at ten weeks of age. It is estimated by poultry men making a specialty of growing ducks that the feed cost per pound of producing duck meat ranges from 8 cents to 12 cents, depending upon the current prices of grain and other feeds.

Increasing the Supply of Eggs

The number of marketable eggs can be increased by following a few practical suggestions. Among the most important of these are the production of the infertile egg after the breeding season is over, and the proper handling of eggs by the farmer before sending them to market. The infertile egg is obtained when all male birds are removed from the flock. This does not decrease the number of eggs produced, but it does increase greatly their keeping qualities. The production of the infertile egg and the proper handling of marketing of eggs by the producer would increase tremendously the number of marketable eggs each year by diminishing the quantity that are rendered unfit for food.

An increased production of ducks' eggs is advisable where available markets are found.

The poultry house should be clean and sanitary and the fowls free from insect pests, thereby preventing disease and mortality. It is estimated that nearly $9,000,000 worth of poultry is lost each year through disease alone. Special attention should be given to the feeding and housing of laying fowls at seasons of the year when their natural source of food supply is cut off.

General Increase in Poultry Products

Although the hatching season proper should be considered at an end by May 1, it may be feasible in some sections of the northern and northwestern part of this country to continue hatching until the first of June. Chicks hatched at that time with proper feed and management, will frequently begin laying in January of the following year. The maturity of fowls hatched late can be greatly increased if the mother hens are confined until the chicks are weaned. In this way feed that is furnished the chicks produces growth, instead of energy to follow the mother. Extra precautions should be taken in the late spring and early summer to keep the young birds free from lice and disease both of which cause thousands to die every year. More general uses of the incubator and brooder will increase considerably the output of chickens, and consequently the number of layers the following year.

The U. S. department of agriculture and the several state agricultural colleges will be glad to supply helpful information to anyone interested in raising poultry on a large or small scale.

THE HIGH FLYER

Twinkle, twinkle, little spud,
As among the clouds you send,
You are doubtless feeling gay,
Chasing 'round the Milky Way:
You have reached to such a height
You are surely out of sight,
Like a diamond you seem
In your place—and that's no dream.

Twinkle on another twink
But you'll drive us all to drink
As we chase for needful chink.
You are sailing rather high,
As you wink your shriveled eye—
Up there somewhere in the sky.
Little tuber, on my word,
As a flyer, you're a bird.

Spud, so mighty, though so small,
You make diggers of us all—
Farmers dig you with a hoe,
While we have to dig for dough.
If you keep on, I'll be bound,
You'll bring bullion pound for pound.
You'll fulfill the adage old,
That you're worth your weight in gold.

Tuber, since the coop you flew,
We have only longed for you;
That our fireside you forsook,
Broke our heart and pocket book.
Never felt how we could love
Till you left and went above;
Never felt how dear you were,
Till we paid four dollars per.

Small potato please come back;
In our lives there's such a lack.
Four-year presence we so pine,
That our stomach hits our spine.
We are tired of eating greens,
Stewed prunes, sauerkraut and beans.
'Tis for you alone we yearn,
Daring 'tater please return.

WILL FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE IN NEW ARMY

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 9.—How to combat tuberculosis in the nation's new army was the problem placed before the opening session of national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis here today by its president, Dr. Edward I. Baldwin, of Saratoga Lake.

Dr. Baldwin did not attempt to solve the problem but referred to "unknown difficulties that must be met and overcome."

At the request of the Council of National Defense, he said, the association had appointed a committee of three, who are co-operating in plans for dealing with the question of keeping the white plague out of the army. He said our army will profit from experiences in European armies in the three years, and that plans are already under way to care for those who inevitably will become ill.

That latent tuberculosis conditions are made active in a large percentage of cases by pregnancy, was the theory advanced by Dr. Stephen A. Douglas, superintendent of the Ohio State Sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, O.

Every state in the union now has an organization actively fighting the white plague. This information was given delegates to the convention today by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the organization.

Dr. Hatfield said that in the past year field secretaries have assisted in the organization or reorganization of state associations in ten different states. Organizations have also been formed in Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone and Hawaii.

The war has given a new impetus to the work, said the executive secretary. He told of the establishment of "The American Review of Tuberculosis," the first publication of its kind in English.

"The mortality from tuberculosis is steadily declining," said Dr. Baldwin. He said constant improvement of sanitation, living and working conditions was having its effect. More emphasis is needed, he said, upon the importance of invigoration of the individual than upon the danger of infection, which he said was to a certain extent uncontrollable.

Two sons of Carter Glass, the "fighting" member of the Virginia congressional delegation, passed examinations for commissions as captain in the officer's reserve corps.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right
With the system full
Of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply cannot get feeling right, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

The Whatchama Column

What we need for most of our trains of thought is more freights and fewer parlor cars.

The average train of thought isn't big enough to carry a full-sized opinion on any subject.

Most of them are forever going and never getting anywhere. What they need is a new schedule and a fresh timetable.

The greatest trouble is, though, that many men are too narrow-minded to accommodate broad-gauge tracks for their trains of thought. Their equipment could all run on a goat's eyebrow and never fall off.

Take a look at your train of thought sometime. See if it is suffering from any of these defects. If it is flag it at once and see what can be done.

Heard In The Back Yard

The Dog: "Home'll never seem the same."

The Cat: "Nape. Since the Missus went down to Powell's Hardware store and got all those things for this Spring clean-up there's no more tramping in and out for us. But you ought to see the SEMI-FLOOR FINISH has made things look better. The ALABASTINE on the walls is better than paper; the woodwork has been done over with MASURY'S READY MIXED PAINT; the rooms that were not papered were cleaned with CLIMAX WALLPAPER CLEANER. And with the brushes she got at Powell's she did most of the work herself."

As the two pets bemoaned their fate the entire family were rejoicing over how much better it was to live after the house had been thoroughly renovated and at a very low cost.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1917.

Today is Mother's Day.

BE ON THE JOB!

Work is being made to have the route of the Great Northern Highway changed in such a manner that will include Clearfield and DuBois and other towns of this county. Whether the route will touch Clearfield and DuBois entirely on the activity of the farmers and men of this community as those of another section already hard at work to have the tentative route through Johnstown, Patton and Ebensburg. There is a tremendous influence being brought to bear on the officers of that section and it behooves every citizen of this county to get into the harness and see that this road improvement comes to this community. A meeting has been called for Thursday evening, May 17th, 8 P. M. to be held at the rooms of the DuBois Chamber of Commerce and the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce to operate with DuBois in this undertaking. Let us have a large pilgrimage to DuBois on next Thursday night.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

There is every indication that the Federal Government does not propose to let any man or body of men interfere with the program for uninterrupted industrial production. Just at the moment when it looked as though the entire Clearfield coal region was going to be thrown into confusion over the dispute between the miners and the operators Secretary of Labor Wilson dropped a bombshell into camp in the form of a message summoning the chiefs of both sides to Washington today for a joint conference.

This summons would not mean so much if it were not for the "teeth" in the message. Secretary of Labor Wilson plainly told the contending parties that "he had power and head of his department to act as mediator or to appoint arbitrators to force an agreement." Many view it as a reminder that the conference at Washington today would be final and to the point and it is confidently expected that the miner-operator dispute will, in the course of two or three days, be history, so far as the present dispute is concerned.

What the action of the Secretary of Labor will be is purely conjecture. Some incline to the belief that inasmuch as there is an existing scale agreement, and that the operators have already offered a substantial increase, the Secretary will insist on the miners accepting that which has been offered them by the operators in excess of the scale agreement of April 1916. While Wilson is a labor man it is not thought that he will regard the unexpired scale agreement as a "mere scrap of paper."

Car pushing is the one big question most vital to the interest of the individual operator—not so much for the additional burden it would impose on the operators as a whole but on account of the inequality of the cost as to different mines. Mining conditions are different in every operation and it has been shown that the cost of pushing the cars would cost in some mines six cents per ton and in others as high as five times that figure. The small operator usually has the most expensive proposition and such a concession would put him to a disadvantage in competing with his larger neighbor and competitor. In large operations, the labor shortage would result in many men being taken from the mining of coal to be used for car pushing and considerable of the car pusher's time would be wasted walking from place to place and waiting for cars to be loaded. The only relief from the labor situation in car pushing would be the installation of expensive machinery to do the work mechanically and this would add largely to the expense and investment of the operator. Mules for hauling the cars could not be used generally as the use of mules would necessitate the taking up of bottom rock or the shooting of top rock.

It is possible that the Secretary of Labor will see fit to suggest the 33 1-3 per cent advance in wages but with his keen insight and understanding of the business of mining he surely will recognize that to enforce the car pushing proposition will only further complicate the already unstable condition of industrial affairs.

BABIES NEGLECTED, SAYS DOCTOR

Cincinnati, May 10—Delegates to the national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis were told today that thus far the propaganda of the organization had neglected the babies.

"A tuberculosis mother," said Dr. Alfred F. Hess, of New York, gives birth to a healthy and normal baby, and promptly, within the next few months, infects it with tuberculosis so that its chance of reaching the age of childhood is slight. If we are to progress in our fight against tuberculosis, these infants must be looked after."

Dr. Hess said the best plan was to separate the babies from their diseased mothers during the first days of life.

Dr. H. Kennon Dunham of this city spoke of the value of the X-Ray in exposing false "cures" and in making possible exact surgical operations in the chest.

The so-called "gold cure" for tuberculosis was discussed by Dr. Lydia M. DeWitt of the University of Chicago, who said salts of gold, though reported to have given favorable results, were still experimental as a tuberculosis cure and should not be used on human patients.

The surgeon's knife may check tuberculosis of the bowels, prolonging life but will not effect a permanent cure, said Dr. Edward Archibald of Montreal.

Dr. Donald B. Armstrong declared it is possible to discover and place under control every case of tuberculosis in a manufacturing community, and eventually rid it of the disease by discovering the social and economic causes—and removing them. In a town of 16,000 population this is being done, he said by the means of a fund of $100,000 donated by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"If tuberculosis is to be prevented, every community must know exactly how many of its citizens lack food, clothing, shelter, recreation and medical care," said Wilbur C. Phillips, secretary of the National Social Unit Organization.

To Give or Sell Intoxicants to One Who Is Training to Defend His Country Is a Treasonable Act Against the Nation, Major General Asst. Temp. Scores Big Victories.

By MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM HARDING CARTER, U. S. A.

With the declaration of war with Germany and the enactment of the selective draft law, we have assumed obligations whose ultimate ends no man can foresee. Primarily we have now become responsible for the preparation of hundreds of thousands of young men for the stern duties and hardships of war, and in the natural order of things they will constitute the human element available for the nation's defense for many years to come. The nation owes it to the young men who are selected for military training and service that from the very first they shall know that the training will be carried on under circumstances above reproach.

The development of minds and bodies to meet the demands of military service in war requires not only the most modern hygienic surroundings, but the absence of every form of personal dissipation. Any one who sells or gives intoxicants or drugs of any kind to young men undergoing training for the nation's defense not only commits a crime against the individual, but a treasonable act against the nation.

The experience of European nations has made it clear that to maintain a modern army in the field there must be organized industry at home. Anything that militates against this by depriving the human element of its normal energy, working under war pressure, must be combated and if need be destroyed.

Intoxicants Produce Criminals.

The public is far better advised today than ever before concerning the effects of the habitual use of intoxicants in producing criminal, insane and degenerate children. Prisons, asylums and public reformatories furnish continuous and abundant evidence along these lines. The increasing undisciplinedness of Americans has been observed and noted by investigators and students for many years. This is evidenced in lack of respect for parents, for the aged, for the officers of the law and for the law itself. It has also been a uniform observation that these conditions become aggravated whenever and wherever intoxicating liquors are habitually used. Confronted with these facts, we are about to undertake the creation of a large army of the people and to prepare it for participation in the most gigantic struggle in the history of wars.

When the army was reorganized in 1901, following the war with Spain, there was introduced in the act prohibitory legislation regarding the sale of wines and beers upon military reservations. There was much resentment on the part of the army at this discriminatory legislation, for, while it introduced prohibition on reservations, it encouraged border line saloons in surrounding territory.

Navy Also Bans Liquor.

In the course of time following the abolition of the sale of beer and wines—alcoholic liquors were previously barred—on military reservations the naval regulations banished intoxicating drinks from war vessels. Modern battleships, destroyers and submarines had become too complicated to be entrusted in any part to minds beclouded with drink. Efficiency and safety of operation alike demanded the exclusion of liquors from war vessels, and it is certain that if the restoration of the wine mess for the period of the war were put to a vote of naval officers it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Observing the operations of the so called anti-canteen law, which stopped the sale of wine and beer at post exchanges or canteens, it was found that for a time the offenses involving drunkenness increased at army posts located in territory where saloons were permitted to exist. This was credited to the fact that men went considerable distances from barracks for liquor and, not expecting to repeat the trip soon, indulged in too much for their own good. The statistics of disciplinary action through a number of years seemed to establish that more than 50 per cent of the cases of desertion and absence without leave were due to drunkenness.

Big Victories For Temperance.

While the current returns of the internal revenue bureau of the treasury make it appear that the income from the manufacture of beer and liquors has steadily increased there can be no question that the temperance and total abstinence campaigns of the past few years have brought about a marked change in American life. It is no longer fashionable to serve wines and liquors in the lavish way which obtained in former years. That temperance has won a lasting victory is attested by the large increase in territory covered by prohibition laws and in the drastic regulations governing the employment of men in dangerous occupations when individuals are responsible for the lives of others.

Which costs most—painting or waiting?

After your house needs painting, every year you wait it will require more paint and more labor to put it in good condition. And every year you wait, your house is worth less. A little paint-money is good paint-insurance.

Men's and Boy's Caps at Remarkable Low Prices

There's a wonderful lot of them and the price is exceedingly low for the quality. If you're needing a cap here's the place to get it and if you pass this chance up you're going to lose money.

There's one lot of men's caps of fancy weaves and stripes of good substantial material are great bargains at 50 cents. We've marked them for Saturday selling at 39c.

Another lot of better grade and these are beauties for the money. They are that rough sports weave and anywhere else you would pay a dollar to a dollar and a half for them. We marked them for quick selling at 75c and 95c. Odds and ends of winter caps are being closed out at 25c.

SHOW YOUR COLORS ON YOUR NECK-TIE

Here we are with a fresh shipment of the newest novelty necktie with Old Glory either woven into the fabric or affixed to the tie in some way that it will show just where you stand. There's also a lot of the new knit tie in the lot and we have marked the whole lot to sell for 48c.

CHILDREN'S TWE DRESSES FOR WONDERFULLY LOW PRICES

We have again placed on sale those wash dresses that were on sale during the first part of the sale and they are going to go this time at the prices we have marked them and the woman who has little girls should come in at once. They are of material that will stand the tub and the make-up and style are exceptionally good.

Final Clean-up of Millinery

For tomorrow we have marked all the odds and ends of the millinery section at prices that will surely move them out and lucky is the woman who gets here early for her spring or summer hat. The lot consists of all the trimmed and untrimmed hats in the store and there's some beauties in the lot.

THE SALE OF WOMEN'S SHOES STILL REMAINS POPULAR

You'd think so if you could hear the remarks of the pleased woman who are daily coming for their summer footwear. They are pleased with the style and make-up and also with the more important part—the price.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

Annette's for preparedness
So keeps on the fight
Of hoisting up dumb bells
Both morning and night.
That gowns would be sleeveless
This season she wist
So seeks to be well armed
From shoulder to wrist.

New York, May 11.—Sleeves are indeed becoming a minus quantity. Soon they will be as extinct as the ichthyornis. In seasons past we have bravely and unflinchingly presented arms to leg-mutton, bison, puff, balloon, bell, tight, flowing, mousquetaire, wing and angel sleeves, but this year a sleeve by any other name would still be next to nothing.

At least this sleeveless fashion will free us from the shadow of arrest for carrying concealed weapons since we no longer carry our arms up our sleeves but go around brandishing them quite open and above board.

Positively anyone appearing in anything as obsolete and outrageous as a sleeve in an evening gown would be taken out and shot at sunrise. Even the ordinary quota of two jeweled straps or two bead strands, one over each shoulder, has become a bit too sleazy for the extreme sleeveless enthusiasts and so they are left with but a single strap to cling to.

In their struggle for existence the sleeves in the afternoon and daytime frocks and gowns are worn to mere shadows of their former substantial selves. They are thin and fragile and wraithlike of Georgette crepe, chiffon, net or shadow laces. Most of them have dwindled or shrunk to half of their former great length and as elbow sleeves are content at most to reach to the funny bone.

Just a few regulation sleeves there are left in daytime frocks that will pass muster. These are for wear with the new sleeveless jackets and short coats. For yes, even the coats are being born and worn, unsleeved this season. Saucy little, straight-cut, hip-length affairs they are of serge gabardine, velvet or satin, usually elaborately embroidered in gayly colored threads. They are perfect in every sense except a sleeve sense and when it comes to the places where they ought to be there is absolutely nothing. You must bear with these little coats, however. Though they have their shortcomings they are not really meant for wear with bare arms.

For every little sleeveless coat there is a fetching frock with sleeves to bear it company and thus supply all deficiencies. If a lack of sleeves must be dubbed a deficiency.

Zuave, belere and monkey jackets are numbered among these smart new sleeveless coats and pony jackets, too, are very racy. These that aren't embroidered are stitched and almost all and every one boasts a tassel or two somewhere on it. The sleeves on the gowns that go with these sleeveless coats invariably bob with a tassel at their cuff. Sort of survival of the fittest these sleeves are, too, since they are all close fitting and arm fitted.

Apropos of the finish of the fast disappearing sleeve species, whether it is a quick finish or not, at least it is a novel one in almost every instance.

One is tied around the wrist with a little tassel-ended ribbon and then flares out again in a fitted frill below the tie. Another Georgette sleeve in a taffeta frock has a snug little cuff of the folded taffeta finished with a flat pump bow with one loop longer than the other that juts out to the side in a most pert fashion.

Another sleeve to a crepe dress with a beaded bodice has a beaded cuff that fits tight up to the elbow and then flares out into a fullness of unbeaded crepe.

Another of gabardine has a tight cuff with three rows of stitching fastened with a flat bone button, the stitching and the buttons repeated three times up to the elbow where the sleeves juts out at a tangent. A white satin finish on a Chinese blue charmeuse sleeve is a cuff that turns down with two points over the hand that are adangle each with a white tassel just waiting to drop into one's soup.

So you see you may scrape up a sleeve or two to laugh in this season but the laugh is bound to be an empty or hollow one and nine times out of ten it is apt to be on you.

Seventh Day Adventists have notified the War Department that their religion will not permit them to participate in the war between the United States and Germany.

One of the most unique social organizations in this country is a society of seaweed enthusiasts who hold annual dinners at which nothing but seaweed is served.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness, softness, whiteness and beauty.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of arched white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothening and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

The following letter was received from Wendel Lucas, one of the Clearfield High school boys with Uncle Sam.

Co. E, 34th Infantry
Marfa, Texas

Dear Cousin:

I received my first mail yesterday. I got quite a lot and am spending all my spare time in answering them. I lost Torrence, my last Pennsylvania friend. I am among New Yorkers and cannot even like them. I expect to leave for Europe in the next thirty days and you know what that means. I wish I could get to come home once before I go and see the folks.

The pictures I sent you were taken at Fort Slocum. Don't make a swift looking soldier, as you call it. Please remind mother of sending what I asked for and I will send you the teeth of the first German I get. Mobilize the girls and send some candy. I am all alone, but I can eat lots. Answer this right away and tell mother to do the same.

We have a band of 120 pieces and six bugles. Guess I'll ring off this time and take a sleep.

So long,
WENDELL

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN
"WITHOUT A SOUL"

Lola, the young and beautiful daughter of Dr. Barnhelm, learns to her dismay that one of her suitors is a married man and allows herself to be betrothed to John Morris, a manly young chap.

Her father has made a wonderful discovery, whereby the dead can be restored to life and when his daughter becomes the victim of an auto accident, decides to try his new discovery.

He succeeds in his efforts but instead of the lovable young woman, there returns an ill-tempered, avaricious woman without any conception of the differences between right and wrong. She jilts her fiancé and uses her father's money to buy herself expensive clothes and jewels. Finally, after a life with several dissolute men she returns to her father's house and dies in his presence.

Seeing that his discovery had brought nothing but heart-break in the previous restoration of his daughter, the professor decides to destroy the costly instruments that had taken him years of effort to create.

See this heart-thrilling drama at the Globe tonight.

BLACK ORCHIDS

The ignominious fate of Zoraida, beautiful creature of Rev Ingram's fancy, who won men's love and then jilted them, will serve as a lesson to flirtatious maidens when "Black Orchids" is displayed in Bluebird Photoplays at the Tent Movies theatre on Saturday, May 12, with Cleo Madison playing the leading role. There is a tense and tragic interest in the progress of Zoraida's heartless treatment of men who fawned at her feet—there is a great and purposeful mission in this gripping photoplay.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

Miss Gertrude Bell talks on "Interior Decorations."

Despite the inclement weather, the attendance was fair at the meeting of the Woman's club Tuesday at three o'clock at the Club House.

Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the club, graciously presided in the absence of a regular leader.

Miss Alice Dill acted as secretary and read the minutes of the two previous meetings.

On account of the unavoidable absence of several members the subject "Exterior Decorations" (including homes yards and parks) was not discussed.

Miss Gertrude Bell gave the principal talk of the afternoon her subject being "Interior Decoration."

Miss Bell's talk was "right to the point" and was full of splendid advice and instruction in regard to harmony of design and personality of expression in interior hangings, wall paper, pictures and rugs.

She urged "unity" of all in a given space, and put strong emphasis on "purpose". For example the top of a piano should not be used as a mantle, should have no cover, and above all should not be filled with vases and ornaments.

She spoke further on Adaptation, Material Symbolism and Structure.

Sheriff McCloskey To Have Charge Of All County Registrars

Blanks For Filling Out Have Been In His Hands For Several Days With Instructions To Be Ready

FOLLOWING IS A LIST OF THE QUESTIONS

Sheriff Ira McCloskey will have charge of conscription in Clearfield county. He will appoint registrars for each voting district in the county, where all young men between the ages of 21 and 31 years will report at a time to be designated later, for registration.

If they do not report, the sheriff will be obliged to perform the disagreeable duty of going after them.

The registrars will volunteer their services and will receive no compensation.

We have procured the following information in regard to enrolling of those of conscription age by the sheriff of Clearfield county and his registrars.

There are two cards one of which contains a dozen questions which the eligible must answer and which he must verify by his signature, while on the back are three questions to be answered and signed by the registrar. A registration certificate is given to each person registering showing that the holder has submitted himself to the registration and has been duly registered.

The list of questions to be answered are as follows:

- Name in full and age?
- Home address, including street number?
- Date of birth?
- Are you a natural born citizen, a naturalized citizen, an alien or have you declared your intentions?
- Where were you born?
- If not a citizen, of what country are you a citizen or subject?
- What is your present trade, occupation or office?
- By whom employed?
- Where employed?
- Have you a father, mother, wife, child under 12, or a sister or brother under 12, solely dependent on you for support, specify which?
- Married or single and race?
- Military service you have had, rank, branch, years, nation or state?
- Do you claim exemption from draft, specify grounds?
- On one corner of the card there is printed these words: "If person is of African descent, tear off this corner."
- The questions to be answered by the registrar are as follows:
- Tall, medium or short; slender, medium or stout?
- Color of eyes, color of hair, bald?
- Has person lost arm, leg, hand, foot or both eyes or is he otherwise disabled?

The registrar must certify that the person registered has read his own answers and that he has witnessed the signature and that all of his answers of which the registrar has knowledge are true, a blank space being provided for any exceptions.

The registration certificate which is filled out by the registrar and is turned over to the person registered is a green card, signed by the registrar and which bears the insignia of the United States. It is to be kept by the person registering and sets forth that the holder has complied with the proclamation of the president of the United States by submitting himself to registration and that he has been duly registered on the date specified.

The holder of the card is supposed to carry it with him so that, in case he might be questioned by an yone in authority in regards to his compliance with the President's proclamation he can show it. Should any male coming under the conscription age to be fixed by congress, not be able to produce the registration certificate or card, after the time has passed for registration, he is liable to arrest by the United States authorities for not complying with the proclamation of the President.

SOUNDS LIKE A PIPE DREAM

By W. S. Forrest
(By United Press)

Paris, May 11.—The Belgian flag will fly over Constantinople and Belgium will control the Dardanelles according to the allies plans for its war aims respecting Turkey. On the highest authority it can be stated that this change in the program has met with the approval of all the allies. None of the allies will think of bringing the war to a conclusion with Turkey on the map of Europe. If the Dardanelles were given to any other country there might be jealousy and it would interfere with the future world peace. If Constantinople and the Bosphorus were given to any of the Balkan states the future world peace force would be kept busy restoring order. They will be under the rule of King Albert's little nation as a reward for the terrible sacrifice it has made.

PITTSBURGH DRUG COMPANY OFFICERS ARRESTED

(By United Press)
Pittsburgh, May 11.—Five men including the heads of the Jos. Fleming and Sons Co. and two physicians—one Chinese and the other an American—were arrested here today on charges of conspiracy to evade sections of the Harrison anti-drug act. Revenue Agent F. L. Boyd who issued the warrants declared that developments to come will prove that Pittsburgh has been the "dope center of the United States."

W. I. SWOOPE TO BE ORATOR AT PHILIPSBURG

Committee Announces Plans All Complete For Big Patriotic Demonstration

WILL CELEBRATE SATURDAY

Philipsburg, May 11.—Mr. W. I. Swoope of Clearfield nationally known as an orator will deliver the Patriot Day address in this city next Saturday, May 12.

Mr. Swoope is a forceful speaker. His coming to Philipsburg on this occasion is considered by the Committee to be a master stroke of fortune in view of the demands made on his time. Mr. Swoope will address the assembly from a platform in the school yard, following the flag raising at the conclusion of the parade.

The route of the parade will be as follows: West on Spruce street to Front street, thence south on Front street to Presquele street, thence east on Presquele street to Seventh street, thence north on Seventh street to school, then mass in school yard and on Sixth street.

The Music Committee, William Peters, James Stott, Malcolm MacFarlane, assure the committee that a band will head each division of the parade.

The G. A. R., Sheridan Circle and the speaker will review the parade from a platform built in front of the G. A. R. quarters on Presquele street, and the marchers will acknowledge this by a dip of the flag and a military salute.

William Collins of Falls Creek, a victim of Old Demon Rum, was before the court on a charge of habitual drunkenness and non-support. After a temperance lecture he was allowed to go on his promise to cut out the booze and the Prothonotary was directed to notify license holders on that side of the mountain to put Collins on the prohibited list and thus help him keep his promise.

Perry Detona, the Curwensville foreigner who shot a fellow workman twice during an altercation at the plant of the Bickford Fire Brick company recently, entered a plea of guilty, to a charge of aggravated assault and battery and was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the Western penitentiary. Detona had been living in this country for about sixteen years and had never taken out citizenship papers. He expressed a willingness to declare his intentions and join the army but as District Attorney Welch had investigated his case and found that he had served time at Towanda, Pa., and been in trouble in this county before, it was thought the penitentiary was a better place for him at this time.

CLEARFIELD RED CROSS CHAPTER IN ACTION

Able Officers Elected to Further Interest of Great Charitable Society In This Community

YOU SHOULD BECOME MEMBER

The Clearfield Red Cross Chapter met in the Auditorium of the New High School on May 10, 1917 at 2:30 P. M.

The following officers were elected: Hon. J. Frank Snyder, Chairman. Mrs. J. Fred Weaver, Vice Chairman. H. S. Whiteman, Jr., Treasurer. Miss Ella C. Shaw, Temporary Secretary.

Mrs. A. O. Smith was elected chairman of the Surgical Dressings Department with Miss Ella C. Shaw secretary. A meeting will be called during the coming week to outline the work in this department.

We have all heard of the great Red Cross Society. Familiar as we are with the name, the work and object of the society is more or less obscure to the average individual. It will be news to many to learn that any man, woman or child can be an active member of the Red Cross and share in the honor of helping in the grand humanitarian work. Nothing is so inspiring as the familiar sight of the sign of the Red Cross. It reflects a message of good cheer and charity under the whole canopy of heaven and in a single time can truly be said to be the one emblem of love and charity recognized by warring factions. An article more fully describing this feature of Red Cross work will soon appear in the Progress. The local chapter is to be congratulated on their foresight in electing "men of action" and calibre to the executive staff.

Court Passes Sentence of Death On Convicted Murderer of Rowles

What was possibly the last chapter but one in the case of Com. vs. M. W. Denney was enacted in the court room this morning when Denney or the "Big Swede" as he is known, was called before the Bar of Justice for sentence.

Denney, it will be remembered, was convicted last September of murder in the first degree for the killing of John Rowles in the Shade shanty in the Fourth ward in January of last year.

His accomplices in the killing and robbery, James Wilson and James Allen were convicted of second degree murder and are serving seven year sentences in the penitentiary.

Following his conviction a new trial was asked for Denney by Messrs. Liveright and Gleason, his counsel, but refused, and as it was thought the present legislature would abolish capital punishment, Judge Bell refrained from passing sentence. Now that all hope of abolition of the death penalty is passed and Denney's case is clearing up, the records preparatory to enlisting in the army, Denney was called for sentence this morning.

He was brought into court by Sheriff McCloskey and when he faced the Court he was asked by Judge Bell whether he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced. Denney said he had nothing to say and Judge Bell thereupon sentenced him to death in the electric chair at Rockview.

Denney was apparently unaffected and turned and walked to his cell. After a short consultation with his client Attorney Liveright understood that an appeal from the sentence would be taken to the Supreme court just as soon as the papers in the case could be prepared. It will thus be seen that Denney's case will be finally disposed of and a new trial may be the result, should the Supreme court find reason to reverse the lower court's finding.

Agent Of Defense Council Sits In Operator-Mine Worker Controversy

Washington, May 11.—Eight members of the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators and several of the United-Mine Workers officials and delegates met with Secretary of Labor Wilson today in an effort to effect a conciliation in the wage and car pushing controversy which has been a bone of contention for several weeks. Both sides were heard and Secretary Wilson evinced great interest in the pleas of both operators and miners and ap peared thoroughly conversant with conditions in this region—knowledge gained through his long residence in the coal fields of Central Pennsylvania and his experience as miner and labor leader. An interested and observant party to the hearing was Mr. Louis Peabody, chairman of the Coal Committee of the National Council of Defense. At 4 p. m. there is no indication of what the joint conference will be able to do toward finally settling the difficulty.

Osceola Water Comp's Sued For $20,000

Wife of Man Who Succumbed to Fever Brings Suit to Recover Damages

The first echo of the typhoid fever epidemic which swept the town of Osceola the past few months was heard at the court house yesterday when A. R. Chase, Esq., entered suit on behalf of Mrs. Mary Kenna against the Osceola Water company of Osceola for damages incident to the death of her husband, who was one of the typhoid victims.

The amount of damages asked for is $20,000, and the statement filed claims that Kenna contracted the fever from drinking the water furnished by the water company.

It is contended that the reservoir from which the water was taken was fed by a small stream which headed near Sandy Ridge and that the deadly typhoid germs were carried by this stream to the consumer.

It is said that this case will be made a sort of test case by the victims of the typhoid scourge and as there were more than a score of deaths if the responsibility can be placed upon the water company it will result in the financial annihilation of the water company.

LUMBAGO GOES HE FEELS O. K.

Master Medicine to His Rescue When Condition Was Worst

"I was a fine example of 'every picture tells a story,'" says John N. Jones, of 1220 Camden street, Harrisburg. "I was that crippled up with lumbago that I couldn't straighten myself up and I felt so worn out that I thought my days of usefulness were about done."

"I suffered agonies. Why, I couldn't even bend over to tie my shoes without feeling as if a streak of fire was running up and down my back, and when I did get down I couldn't get straightened up again."

"I tried a lot of different kinds of medicine, without any results so far as I could see and I had a picture of myself out of work and not able to lift a hand to earn my living."

"Then one day I read about Tanlac in my paper and I came right down and got a bottle, for, I said, 'If it will do so much for other people, it looks as if it would help me. Did it? All right before you could say 'how-de-do' I was feeling better and from that time on my improvement has been steady until now I am back on my job again and feeling five years younger."

"Now I feel absolutely O. K. and am back on my old job again and I can truthfully say that Tanlac put me there."

Tanlac is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson.

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS IS COMING

Greatest Show on Earth Will Soon Exhibit in This Vicinity

Once again the glad tidings are being sent broadcast telling of the coming of Barnum & Bailey's circus. The greatest show on earth, it is announced, will positively be exhibited within easy traveling distance this season and, as usual, a large percentage of the population will declare a holiday to visit the show.

The big circus will exhibit at Altoona on May 23.

It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Barnum & Bailey performance has ever before been seen under canvas. New and novel features have been imported from abroad and a program of events thrilling, educational and screamingly funny, will occupy every instant in three stages, four stages, the rigging above and the hippodrome surrounding for more than three hours.

The free street parade, which will start from the circus lot at 10 o'clock on the morning of circus day, is entirely different from anything of the kind ever shown before. It will be three miles in length and there will be bands on foot, on horseback, and riding on top of wagons of red and gold. There will be six bands in all and they will be assisted by three brass bands and an electric piano.

With the largest tent in the history of all circuses, the Barnum & Bailey circus promises this season to make good again its boast that it is the greatest show on earth. Five railroad cars, will be required to transport its paraphernalia and more than 750 horses will be used to transfer its wagons from the railroad yards to the show lot.

A Column of Interest to Poultry Fanciers and Producers of Eggs

Washington, May 11.—The statement made at the recent agricultural conference at St. Louis that the poultry products of the United States could be doubled within a year means that if everybody in a position to help did their part six hundred million dollars worth of food would be added to our supply this year.

This includes both meat for the table and eggs. Very few farmers practice a systematic plan of disposing of their fowls after they have ceased to be productive although it is well known that fowls of the heavier breeds such as the Plymouth Rock cease to produce a profitable number of eggs at the end of their second laying year and that this holds true of the lighter breeds such as the Leghorns at the end of their third laying year. Consequently, if efforts were made to dispose of all females when their best-laying days were over a large quantity of poultry meat would be placed on the market. All poorly developed chickens should likewise be culled out and used as meat. This way of disposing of unprofitable fowls would allow the farmer to feed his grain to younger and more productive fowls.

Caponizing the cockerels that are not intended for breeding purposes will not only increase their size but will place a more desirable poultry meat on the market. Another practice that should be adopted more widely is that of fattening all chickens that are to be marketed before they leave the farm. This can be done easily by confining the birds for a week or ten days and feeding them a good fattening ration. They will come to market then in better condition and the farmer will receive a profit for their added weight.

The greater production of turkeys, ducks, geese and guineas, all of which can be profitably raised and a ready market found in most sections, would increase the supply of poultry meat considerably. The production of ducks especially should be emphasized at this time, because of the rapidity with which they grow. Ducks of most of the meat breeds, properly fed and managed, frequently weigh from five to six pounds at ten weeks of age. It is estimated by poultry men making a specialty of growing ducks that the feed cost per pound of producing duck meat ranges from 8 cents to 12 cents, depending upon the current prices of grain and other feeds.

Increasing the Supply of Eggs

The number of marketable eggs can be increased by following a few practical suggestions. Among the most important of these are the production of the infertile egg after the breeding season is over, and the proper handling of eggs by the farmer before sending them to market. The infertile egg is obtained when all male birds are removed from the flock. This does not decrease the number of eggs produced, but it does increase greatly their keeping qualities. The production of the infertile egg and the proper handling of marketing of eggs by the producer would increase tremendously the number of marketable eggs each year by diminishing the quantity that are rendered unfit for food.

An increased production of ducks' eggs is advisable where available markets are found.

The poultry house should be clean and sanitary and the fowls free from insect pests, thereby preventing disease and mortality. It is estimated that nearly $9,000,000 worth of poultry is lost each year through disease alone. Special attention should be given to the feeding and housing of laying fowls at seasons of the year when their natural source of food supply is cut off.

General Increase in Poultry Products

Although the hatching season proper should be considered at an end by May 1, it may be feasible in some sections of the northern and northwestern part of this country to continue hatching until the first of June. Chicks hatched at that time with proper feed and management, will frequently begin laying in January of the following year. The maturity of fowls hatched late can be greatly increased if the mother hens are confined until the chicks are weaned. In this way feed that is furnished the chicks produces growth, instead of energy to follow the mother. Extra precautions should be taken in the late spring and early summer to keep the young birds free from lice and disease both of which cause thousands to die every year. More general uses of the incubator and brooder will increase considerably the output of chickens, and consequently the number of layers the following year.

The U. S. department of agriculture and the several state agricultural colleges will be glad to supply helpful information to anyone interested in raising poultry on a large or small scale.

THE HIGH FLYER

Twinkle, twinkle, little spud,
As among the clouds you send,
You are doubtless feeling gay,
Chasing 'round the Milky Way:
You have reached to such a height
You are surely out of sight,
Like a diamond you seem
In your place—and that's no dream.

Twinkle on another twink
But you'll drive us all to drink
As we chase for needful chink.
You are sailing rather high,
As you wink your shriveled eye—
Up there somewhere in the sky.
Little tuber, on my word,
As a flyer, you're a bird.

Spud, so mighty, though so small,
You make diggers of us all—
Farmers dig you with a hoe,
While we have to dig for dough.
If you keep on, I'll be bound,
You'll bring bullion pound for pound.
You'll fulfill the adage old,
That you're worth your weight in gold.

Tuber, since the coop you flew,
We have only longed for you;
That our fireside you forsook,
Broke our heart and pocket book.
Never felt how we could love
Till you left and went above;
Never felt how low dear you were,
Till we paid four dollars per.

Small potato please come back;
In our lives there's such a lack.
Four-year presence we so pine,
That our stomach hits our spine.
We are tired of eating greens,
Stewed prunes, sauerkraut and beans.
'Tis for you alone we yearn,
Daring 'tater please return.

WILL FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE IN NEW ARMY

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 9.—How to combat tuberculosis in the nation's new army was the problem placed before the opening session of national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis here today by its president, Dr. Edward I. Baldwin, of Saratoga Lake.

Dr. Baldwin did not attempt to solve the problem but referred to "unknown difficulties that must be met and overcome."

At the request of the Council of National Defense, he said, the association had appointed a committee of three, who are co-operating in plans for dealing with the question of keeping the white plague out of the army. He said our army will profit from experiences in European armies in the three years, and that plans are already under way to care for those who inevitably will become ill.

That latent tuberculosis conditions are made active in a large percentage of cases by pregnancy, was the theory advanced by Dr. Stephen A. Douglas, superintendent of the Ohio State Sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, O.

Every state in the union now has an organization actively fighting the white plague. This information was given delegates to the convention today by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, executive secretary of the organization.

Dr. Hatfield said that in the past year field secretaries have assisted in the organization or reorganization of state associations in ten different states. Organizations have also been formed in Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone and Hawaii.

The war has given a new impetus to the work, said the executive secretary. He told of the establishment of "The American Review of Tuberculosis," the first publication of its kind in English.

"The mortality from tuberculosis is steadily declining," said Dr. Baldwin. He said constant improvement of sanitation, living and working conditions was having its effect. More emphasis is needed, he said, upon the importance of invigoration of the individual than upon the danger of infection, which he said was to a certain extent uncontrollable.

Two sons of Carter Glass, the "fighting" member of the Virginia congressional delegation, passed examinations for commissions as captain in the officer's reserve corps.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right
With the system full
Of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply cannot get feeling right, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

The Whatchama Column

What we need for most of our trains of thought is more freights and fewer parlor cars.

The average train of thought isn't big enough to carry a full-sized opinion on any subject.

Most of them are forever going and never getting anywhere. What they need is a new schedule and a fresh timetable.

The greatest trouble is, though, that many men are too narrow-minded to accommodate broad-gauge tracks for their trains of thought. Their equipment could all run on a goat's eyebrow and never fall off.

Take a look at your train of thought sometime. See if it is suffering from any of these defects. If it is flag it at once and see what can be done.

Heard In The Back Yard

The Dog: "Home'll never seem the same."

The Cat: "Nape. Since the Missus went down to Powell's Hardware store and got all those things for this Spring clean-up there's no more tramping in and out for us. But you ought to see the ~~new~~ FLOOR FINISH has made things look better. The ALABASTINE on the walls is better than paper; the woodwork has been done over with MASURY'S READY MIXED PAINT; the rooms that were not papered were cleaned with CLIMAX WALLPAPER CLEANER. And with the brushes she got at Powell's she did most of the work herself."

As the two pets bemoaned their fate the entire family were rejoicing over how much better it was to live after the house had been thoroughly renovated and at a very low cost.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 11, 1917.

Today is Mother's Day.

BE ON THE JOB!

Work is being made to have the route of the Great Northern Highway changed in such a manner that will include Clearfield and DuBois and other towns of this county. Whether the route will touch Clearfield and DuBois entirely on the activity of the farmers and men of this community as those of another section already hard at work to have the tentative route through Johnstown, Patton and Ebensburg. There is a tremendous influence being brought to bear on the officers of that section and it behooves every citizen of this county to get into the harness and see that this road improvement comes to this community. A meeting has been called for Thursday evening, May 17th, 8 P. M. to be held at the rooms of the DuBois Chamber of Commerce and the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce to operate with DuBois in this undertaking. Let us have a large pilgrimage to DuBois on next Thursday night.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

There is every indication that the Federal Government does not propose to let any man or body of men interfere with the program for uninterrupted industrial production. Just at the moment when it looked as though the entire Clearfield coal region was going to be thrown into confusion over the dispute between the miners and the operators Secretary of Labor Wilson dropped a bombshell into camp in the form of a message summoning the chiefs of both sides to Washington today for a joint conference.

This summons would not mean so much if it were not for the "teeth" in the message. Secretary of Labor Wilson plainly told the contending parties that "he had power and head of his department to act as mediator or to appoint arbitrators to force an agreement." Many view it as a reminder that the conference at Washington today would be final and to the point and it is confidently expected that the miner-operator dispute will, in the course of two or three days, be history, so far as the present dispute is concerned.

What the action of the Secretary of Labor will be is purely conjecture. Some incline to the belief that inasmuch as there is an existing scale agreement, and that the operators have already offered a substantial increase, the Secretary will insist on the miners accepting that which has been offered them by the operators in excess of the scale agreement of April 1916. While Wilson is a labor man it is not thought that he will regard the unexpired scale agreement as a "mere scrap of paper."

Car pushing is the one big question most vital to the interest of the individual operator—not so much for the additional burden it would impose on the operators as a whole but on account of the inequality of the cost 'as to different mines. Mining conditions are different in every operation and it has been shown that the cost of pushing the cars would cost in some mines six cents per ton and in others as high as five times that figure. The small operator usually has the most expensive proposition and such a concession would put him to a disadvantage in competing with his larger neighbor and competitor. In large operations, the labor shortage would result in many men being taken from the mining of coal to be used for car pushing and considerable of the car pusher's time would be wasted walking from place to place and waiting for cars to be loaded. The only relief from the labor situation in car pushing would be the installation of expensive machinery to do the work mechanically and this would add largely to the expense and investment of the operator. Mules for hauling the cars could not be used generally as the use of mules would necessitate the taking up of bottom rock or the shooting of top rock.

It is possible that the Secretary of Labor will see fit to suggest the 33 1-3 per cent advance in wages but with his keen insight and understanding of the business of mining he surely will recognize that to enforce the car pushing proposition will only further complicate the already unstable condition of industrial affairs.

BABIES NEGLECTED, SAYS DOCTOR

Cincinnati, May 10—Delegates to the national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis were told today that thus far the propaganda of the organization had neglected the babies.

"A tuberculosis mother," said Dr. Alfred F. Hess, of New York, gives birth to a healthy and normal baby, and promptly, within the next few months, infects it with tuberculosis so that its chance of reaching the age of childhood is slight. If we are to progress in our fight against tuberculosis, these infants must be looked after."

Dr. Hess said the best plan was to separate the babies from their diseased mothers during the first days of life.

Dr. H. Kennon Dunham of this city spoke of the value of the X-Ray in exposing false "cures" and in making possible exact surgical operations in the chest.

The so-called "gold cure" for tuberculosis was discussed by Dr. Lydia M.

DeWitt of the University of Chicago, who said salts of gold, though reported to have given favorable results, were still experimental as a tuberculosis cure and should not be used on human patients.

The surgeon's knife may check tuberculosis of the bowels, prolonging life but will not effect a permanent cure, said Dr. Edward Archibald of Montreal.

Dr. Donald B. Armstrong declared it is possible to discover and place under control every case of tuberculosis in a manufacturing community, and eventually rid it of the disease by discovering the social and economic causes—and removing them. In a town of 16,000 population this is being done, he said by the means of a fund of $100,000 donated by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"If tuberculosis is to be prevented, every community must know exactly how many of its citizens lack food, clothing, shelter, recreation and medical care," said Wilbur C. Phillips, secretary of the National Social Unit Organization.

To Give or Sell Intoxicants to One Who Is Training to Defend His Country Is a Treasonable Act Against the Nation, Major General Asst. Temperance Scores Big Victories.

By MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM HARDING CARTER, U. S. A.

With the declaration of war with Germany and the enactment of the selective draft law, we have assumed obligations whose ultimate ends no man can foresee. Primarily we have now become responsible for the preparation of hundreds of thousands of young men for the stern duties and hardships of war, and in the natural order of things they will constitute the human element available for the nation's defense for many years to come. The nation owes it to the young men who are selected for military training and service that from the very first they shall know that the training will be carried on under circumstances above reproach.

The development of minds and bodies to meet the demands of military service in war requires not only the most modern hygienic surroundings, but the absence of every form of personal dissipation. Any one who sells or gives intoxicants or drugs of any kind to young men undergoing training for the nation's defense not only commits a crime against the individual, but a treasonable act against the nation.

The experience of European nations has made it clear that to maintain a modern army in the field there must be organized industry at home. Anything that militates against this by depriving the human element of its normal energy, working under war pressure, must be combated and if need be destroyed.

Intoxicants Produce Criminals.

The public is far better advised today than ever before concerning the effects of the habitual use of intoxicants in producing criminal, insane and degenerate children. Prisons, asylums and public reformatories furnish continuous and abundant evidence along these lines. The increasing undisciplined of Americans has been observed and noted by investigators and students for many years. This is evidenced in lack of respect for parents, for the aged, for the officers of the law and for the law itself. It has also been a uniform observation that these conditions become aggravated whenever and wherever intoxicating liquors are habitually used. Confronted with these facts, we are about to undertake the creation of a large army of the people and to prepare it for participation in the most gigantic struggle in the history of wars.

When the army was reorganized in 1901, following the war with Spain, there was introduced in the act prohibitory legislation regarding the sale of wines and beers upon military reservations. There was much resentment on the part of the army at this discriminatory legislation, for, while it introduced prohibition on reservations, it encouraged border line saloons in surrounding territory.

Navy Also Bans Liquor.

In the course of time following the abolition of the sale of beer and wines—alcoholic liquors were previously barred—on military reservations the naval regulations banished intoxicating drinks from war vessels. Modern battleships, destroyers and submarines had become too complicated to be entrusted in any part to minds beclouded with drink. Efficiency and safety of operation alike demanded the exclusion of liquors from war vessels, and it is certain that if the restoration of the wine mess for the period of the war were put to a vote of naval officers it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Observing the operations of the so called anti-canteen law, which stopped the sale of wine and beer at post exchanges or canteens, it was found that for a time the offenses involving drunkenness increased at army posts located in territory where saloons were permitted to exist. This was credited to the fact that men went considerable distances from barracks for liquor and, not expecting to repeat the trip soon, indulged in too much for their own good. The statistics of disciplinary action through a number of years seemed to establish that more than 50 per cent of the cases of desertion and absence without leave were due to drunkenness.

Big Victories For Temperance.

While the current returns of the internal revenue bureau of the treasury make it appear that the income from the manufacture of beer and liquors has steadily increased there can be no question that the temperance and total abstinence campaigns of the past few years have brought about a marked change in American life. It is no longer fashionable to serve wines and liquors in the lavish way which obtained in former years. That temperance has won a lasting victory is attested by the large increase in territory covered by prohibition laws and in the drastic regulations governing the employment of men in dangerous occupations when individuals are responsible for the lives of others.

Which costs most—painting or waiting?

After your house needs painting, every year you wait it will require more paint and more labor to put it in good condition. And every year you wait, your house is worth less. A little paint-money is good paint-insurance.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

Annette's for preparedness
So keeps on the fight
Of hoisting up dumb bells
Both morning and night.
That gowns would be sleeveless
This season she wist
So seeks to be well armed
From shoulder to wrist.

New York, May 11.—Sleeves are indeed becoming a minus quantity. Soon they will be as extinct as the ichthyornis. In seasons past we have bravely and unflinchingly presented arms to leg-mutton, bison, puff, balloon, bell, tight, flowing, mousquetaire, wing and angel sleeves, but this year a sleeve by any other name would still be next to nothing.

At least this sleeveless fashion will free us from the shadow of arrest for carrying concealed weapons since we no longer carry our arms up our sleeves but go around brandishing them quite open and above board.

Positively anyone appearing in anything as obsolete and outrageous as a sleeve in an evening gown would be taken out and shot at sunrise. Even the ordinary quota of two jeweled straps or two bead strands, one over each shoulder, has become a bit too sleevery for the extreme sleeveless enthusiasts and so they are left with but a single strap to cling to.

In their struggle for existence the sleeves in the afternoon and daytime frocks and gowns are worn to mere shadows of their former substantial selves. They are thin and fragile and wraithlike of Georgette crepe, chiffon, net or shadow laces. Most of them have dwindled or shrunk to half of their former great length and as elbow sleeves are content at most to reach to the funny bone.

Just a few regulation sleeves there are left in daytime frocks that will pass muster. These are for wear with the new sleeveless jackets and short coats. For yes, even the coats are being born and worn, unsleeved this season. Saucy little, straight-cut, hip-length affairs they are of serge, gabardine, velvet or satin, usually elaborately embroidered in gayly colored threads. They are perfect in every sense except a sleeve sense and when it comes to the places where they ought to be there is absolutely nothing. You must bear with these little coats, however. Though they have their shortcomings they are not really meant for wear with bare arms.

For every little sleeveless coat there is a fetching frock with sleeves to bear it company and thus supply all deficiencies. If lack of sleeves must be dubbed a deficiency.

Zuave, belere and monkey jackets are numbered among these smart new sleeveless coats and pony jackets, too, are very racy. Those that aren't embroidered are stitched and almost all and every one boasts a tassel or two somewhere on it. The sleeves on the gowns that go with these sleeveless coats invariably bob with a tassel at their cuff. Sort of survival of the fittest these sleeves are, too, since they are all close fitting and arm fitted.

Apologies of the finish of the fast disappearing sleeve species, whether it is a quick finish or not, at least it is a novel one in almost every instance.

One is tied around the wrist with a little tassel-ended ribbon and then flares out again in a fitted frill below the tie. Another Georgette sleeve in a taffeta frock has a snug little cuff of the folded taffeta finished with a flat pump bow with one loop longer than the other that juts out to the side in a most pert fashion.

Another sleeve to a crepe dress with a beaded bodice has a beaded cuff that fits tight up to the elbow and then flares out into a fullness of unbeaded crepe.

Another of gabardine has a tight cuff with three rows of stitching fastened with a flat bone button, the stitching and the buttons repeated three times up to the elbow where the sleeves juts out at a tangent. A white satin finish on a Chinese blue charmeuse sleeve is a cuff that turns down with two points over the hand that are adangle each with a white tassel just waiting to drop into one's soup.

So you see you may scrape up a sleeve or two to laugh in this season but the laugh is bound to be an empty or hollow one and nine times out of ten it is apt to be on you.

Seventh Day Adventists have notified the War Department that their religion will not permit them to participate in the war between the United States and Germany.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness, softness, whiteness and beauty.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of arched white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothening and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

The following letter was received from Wendel Lucas, one of the Clearfield High school boys with Uncle Sam.

Co. E, 34th Infantry

Marfa, Texas

Dear Cousin:

I received my first mail yesterday. I got quite a lot and am spending all my spare time in answering them. I lost Torrence, my last Pennsylvania friend. I am among New Yorkers and cannot even like them. I expect to leave for Europe in the next thirty days and you know what that means. I wish I could get to come home once before I go and see the folks.

The pictures I sent you were taken at Fort Slocum. Don't make a swift looking soldier, as you call it. Please remind mother of sending what I asked for and I will send you the teeth of the first German I get. Mobilize the girls and send some candy. I am all alone, but I can eat lots. Answer this right away and tell mother to do the same.

We have a band of 120 pieces and six bugles. Guess I'll ring off this time and take a sleep.

So long,

WENDELL

"WITHOUT A SOUL"

Lola, the young and beautiful daughter of Dr. Barnhelm, learns to her dismay that one of her suitors is a married man and allows herself to be betrothed to John Dorris, a manly young chap.

Her father has made a wonderful discovery, whereby the dead can be restored to life and when his daughter becomes the victim of an auto accident, decides to try his new discovery.

He succeeds in his efforts but instead of the lovable young woman, there returns an ill-tempered, avaricious woman without any conception of the differences between right and wrong. She jilts her fiancé and uses her father's money to buy herself expensive clothes and jewels. Finally, after a life with several dissolute men she returns to her father's house and dies in his presence.

Seeing that his discovery had brought nothing but heart-break in the previous restoration of his daughter, the professor decides to destroy the costly instruments that had taken him years of effort to create.

See this heart-thrilling drama at the Globe tonight.

BLACK ORCHIDS

The ignominious fate of Zoraida, beautiful creature of Rev Ingram's fancy, who won men's love and then jilted them, will serve as a lesson to flirtatious maidens when "Black Orchids" is displayed in Bluebird Photoplays at the Tent Movies theatre on Saturday, May 12, with Cleo Madison playing the leading role. There is a tense and tragic interest in the progress of Zoraida's heartless treatment of men who fawned at her feet—there is a great and purposeful mission in this gripping photoplay.

Miss Gertrude Bell talks on "Interior Decorations."

Despite the inclement weather, the attendance was fair at the meeting of the Woman's club Tuesday at three o'clock at the Club House.

Mrs. H. Clark Thayer, President of the club, graciously presided in the absence of a regular leader. Miss Alice Dill acted as secretary and read the minutes of the two previous meetings.

On account of the unavoidable absence of several members the subject "Exterior Decorations" (including homes yards and parks) was not discussed. Miss Gertrude Bell gave the principal talk of the afternoon her subject being "Interior Decoration." Miss Bell's talk was "right to the point" and was full of splendid advice and instruction in regard to harmony of design and personality of expression in interior hangings, wall paper pictures and rugs. She urged "unity" of all in a given space, and put strong emphasis on "purpose". For example the top of a piano should not be used as a mantle, should have no cover, and above all should not be filled with vases and ornaments. She spoke further on Adaptation, Material Symbolism and Structure.
